In 1840, Cunard began life as the British and North American Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, when Sir Samuel Cunard won the first British Government contract to supply a regular mail service across the North Atlantic Ocean. During the early days of the 20th century their greyhounds, Lusitania and Mauretania, were the fastest ocean liners in the world. Cunard's Golden Age occurred after World War II when their Ocean Liners, Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth were the epitome of luxury ocean travel. With speeds of over 30 knots, these two sisters were the largest Ocean Liners in the world.

Cunard's beautiful ships of today, the Queen Elizabeth, Queen Victoria and the Queen Mary 2 continue this tradition with the most luxurious liners afloat. This is a rare opportunity to set sail on Cunard's 3 Queens.

Be quick as this package will no doubt sell out fast!
